ANTI-THEFT PRODUCT IDENTIFICATION MARKING SYSTEM

- Traceable Technology
- Ultra-violet Identification
- Peace of Mind

Trailergard's Safe-Parts marking system combines traceable technology with ultra-violet identification to ensure product security ... giving you peace of mind.

The Safe-Parts System

- Labels with traceable identification numbers permanently mark the product's body parts, i.e. trunk, hood and doors.
- If removed, the labels will leave indelible identification numbers on the product's body parts that can only be seen with ultra-violet light.
- The identification numbers can be scanned by law enforcement officials to trace the product's ownership.
- Identification numbers are registered in a database accessible to law enforcement officials.
- Permanent markings increase recovery.
- Window warning labels, indicating the product is marked and registered, discourage theft.
