ETOMIC COMPANIES ACQUIRES PREMIER DOMAIN TRAILERS.COM

EDEN, NC (January 1, 2013) – Etomic Companies, a premier Internet development company, announced that it has successfully acquired the domain name Trailers.com. The purchase will expand Etomic’s reach into the trailer industry as the leading destination website for everything trailers.

The purchase of the domain Trailers.com fits Etomic’s scope of interest in premium top level domain names. The purchase of Trailers.com will enable Etomic to build a leading website for the trailer industry. Etomic plans to represent several name-brand trailer brands across the United States and Canada to become a top ranking online trailer retailer using Trailers.com.

“Our acquisition of Trailers.com compliments our family of premier top-level Internet stores. This investment represents our dedication in developing and offering the public a trustworthy name brand shopping experience in the trailer marketplace,” said Jeremiah Johnson, president and founder of Etomic Companies Inc. “Our level of experience as the developer, designer and the business owner gives us a unique advantage of understanding how to make goals into a reality while having revenue and profit in mind.”
